The Golf Coaches Association of America (GCAA), through its Corporate Partner Program, offers numerous sponsorship opportunities. In order to continue our current awards program and meet the needs of our growing membership, it is important that we continue to identify sponsors for our most recognizable programs and events. Below, please find a current list of our sponsorship opportunities:

- Team Academic Awards
- Phil Mickelson Freshman of the Year Award
- Community Service Award
- GCAA Hall of Fame Award
- GCAA Lifetime Achievement Award
- GCAA National Coaches Convention

Further information regarding each of these programs is available by contacting Gregg Grost, CEO, at (405) 329-4222 or by email at gregg@collegiategolf.com, or Ryan Klatt, Director of Operations at (405) 329-4222 or by email at ryan@collegiategolf.com.
The GCAA annually administers or assists with collegiate competitions, including the Palmer Cup and Patriot All-America. In addition, the GCAA administers the team that represents the United States in the Toyota Junior Golf World Cup and has in the past administered teams that represented the US in the Match Play Championship, USA China Friendship Cup and the USA vs. Japan Collegiate Golf Championship.

Arnold Palmer Cup
The Arnold Palmer Cup annually showcases the top collegiate men’s and women’s players from the United States in a Ryder Cup-style competition against their counterparts from around the world. Beginning in 1997, the Arnold Palmer Cup has rapidly gained respect as one of the premier amateur golf events in the world each year. Each competition has been held at a world-class venue, including the Old Course at St. Andrews, Bay Hill, Baltusrol, Ballybunion, Caves Valley, Cherry Hills Country Club and the Royal County Down Golf Club. The United States holds a 12-9-1 advantage in the all-time series after securing the cup in 2018 at Evian Resort Golf Club. The 2019 event was held at The Alotian Club.

The Patriot All-America
The Patriot is an annual tournament that features All-Americans from the previous season and is held at the Wigwam Golf Resort in Litchfield Park, AZ. The 54-hole amateur event, which is the first of its kind to combine the talents of 84 nationally recognized players in a holiday bowl-like experience is the combined effort of the Arizona Golf Association, the GCAA, and the Wigwam Golf Resort, in conjunction with the tournament’s beneficiary, the Folds of Honor Foundation.

Toyota Junior Golf World Cup
The Toyota Junior Golf World Cup is played annually in Japan and brings together the best junior golfers in the world. Teams from countries from around the world must qualify (U.S. has a lifetime exemption) to compete in the tournament. The GCAA administers Team USA, which has won nine titles, more than twice as many as any other country.
The GCAA, through its CEO and national office staff, is responsible for coordinating several recognition and educational events each year.

GCAA National Coaches Convention
The GCAA National Coaches Convention brings together member coaches and corporate partners from coast-to-coast. The convention was first held in 1988, with the goal of professional enhancement and educational opportunities to GCAA members. NCAA and USGA representatives attend each year to address current topics pertinent to collegiate and amateur golf.

GCAA Rules Workshop
Held annually prior to the GCAA National Convention, the workshop is conducted by recognized rules officials for both the USGA and PGA of America. The workshop includes a final rules exam.

GCAA Summer Town Hall Meeting
Held semi-annually each July prior to the USGA Junior Amateur Boys Championship, this meeting brings together coaches from across the country to discuss major issues facing men’s college golf.
GCAA Corporate Partner Program
GCAA Established Programs and Services

The GCAA national office, with assistance from committee members across the country, administers numerous programs and services throughout the year.

Corporate Partner Program
Established in December 2000, the GCAA Corporate Partner Program is an integral revenue source for the association. Currently, more than 65 national companies participate in this tiered sponsorship program. Sponsor benefits include recognition in GCAA publications, exhibit space at the GCAA National Coaches Convention as well as advertising opportunities in GCAA event programs and on collegiategolf.com.

Program Membership Club
The Program Membership campaign is designed to insure the long-term future of the GCAA. Formed in September 2001, this initiative will help form the cornerstone of the to-be-created Collegiate Golf Foundation. To date, more than 50 member coaches and their universities have stepped forward to help the GCAA shape the future of college golf. Donations are in excess of $200,000.

Collegiategolf.com
This destination website for college golf was launched in April 2001. The site provides a medium for highlighting GCAA corporate partners, history and member schools. Additionally, news releases covering the GCAA’s awards, events, competitions, charitable programs and coaches’ polls are featured on collegiategolf.com. A new version of the website was launched in December 2010.

Bushnell/Golfweek Golf Coaches’ Poll
The re-tooled coaches’ poll debuted in September 2001. The poll is conducted every three weeks during the season, with polls now conducted for NJCAA DI and DII as well.
The GCAA is the primary award granting organization for men’s collegiate golf. Since 1958, the association has honored thousands of student-athletes and coaches.

PING All-America and All-Region Teams
Following the conclusion of play at the NCAA Championships in Divisions I, II, and III, as well as NAIA and NJCAA Division I and II, the GCAA All-America committees meet and select student-athletes for college golf’s most widely recognized award, the PING All-America teams. The GCAA has been recognizing All-Americans since 1958, a group that includes some of the greatest players in the history of the game.
